

REPORT
COMMISSIONERS OF
MORGAN RAID CLAIMS,
TO THE
GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF OHIO,

DECEMBER 15TH, 1864.

COLUMBUS:
RICHARD NEVINS, STATE PRINTER.
1865.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, December 15th, 1864

To his Excellency John Brough, Governor of Ohio :

In pursuance of the act of Legislature, providing for the appointment of "Commissioners to examine claims growing out of the Morgan Raid," the Commissioners, appointed by you under said act, present herewith a report of "their proceedings, their finding and the facts upon which each claim is founded."

The Board, consisting of Hon. Alfred McVeigh, of Fairfield county, Major Geo. W. Barker, of Washington county, and Henry S. Babbitt, of Franklin county, was organized on the 15th of April last, by the selection of Alfred McVeigh as President, and Henry S. Babbitt as Secretary.

Great unanimity existed in the Board throughout the tedious investigations and in the ultimate adjustment of mooted points.

Commencing its peregrinations on the first Monday of May, the Commission plodded on steadily to the completion of its weary work, from the confines of the State where the arch raider first visited our people with his fellow thieves, following the main track of the marauders until the middle of September, the final session being held at Salineville, in Columbiana county, near the scene of Morgan's surrender.

Our appointments throughout the State were all kept, and the investigations were conducted with the utmost rapidity consistent with an examination that should elicit the material facts in each case.

The plan of examination was to require of the claimant to state under oath the particulars relating to his claim—as to the property owned by him which was taken, destroyed, or injured by the rebels, or Union forces in pursuit thereof; as to its value, at the time; whether he had ever received compensation for the same in any form; if said property had been listed for taxation in Ohio in 1863, and whether he knew aught of the subsequent history of such property as had been taken away by the rebels.

The claimant's affidavit to his own statement in writing was taken in each case. Such witnesses as the claimant could produce were examined as to their personal knowledge of the truth of the statements made by him, and affidavits of persons not present, who were familiar with the alleged facts, were also received.

The examinations were conducted publicly in the most convenient places to be procured by the Commissioners, and the claimants found themselves surrounded by their neighbors and acquaintances, who could confirm or refute their statements as truth and justice might demand. The material points of each case were recorded by the Secretary at the time, in books prepared for the purpose.

The allowances were virtually made upon each claim immediately upon the summing up of the evidence, but, inasmuch as it was discovered that there was a very general disposition to appreciate the prices of property—that the values of 1864 were being substituted for those of 1863—it was determined that in no instance would the Board award a greater allowance than the amount claimed before the respective County Military Committees, who made their investigations immediately after the raid, and reported the results to your predecessor, Governor Tod. Reference has constantly been made to those reports, and they have proved of very great utility in counteracting the tendency to add to values. This statement will explain what might otherwise be considered as evidence of fickleness and inconsistency on the part of the Commission, in fixing the allowance in numerous instances.

It thus appears that the decisions were practically made in all the cases which had been presented, at the time the itinerant Commission was ended, in September. Since that time, however, upwards of one hundred claims have been received by the Commission at Columbus, extending up to the very date of this report.

A meeting was appointed for the Board, at Columbus, on the 20th day of September, to conclude the business of the Commission, by adjusting differences in certain cases, to equalize the varied rates charged in the same county for like commodities, and in regulating the allowances by the County Military Committees already referred to.

To that meeting the honored President of the Board did not report. The inscrutable hand of an overruling Providence, "whose ways are past finding out," had removed him hence, and he had entered upon a higher mission with more exalted duties than those of any earthly office.

It is meet and proper that his survivors in this Board should pay the tribute of simple justice to the memory of Alfred McVeigh.

Daily and intimate intercourse for months necessarily discovers the apparently hidden traits of character in the most reticent of men, but Mr. McVeigh was eminently social, and, through our entire connection, maintained the character of an honest, earnest, affable and Christian gentleman. Imperturbable under opposition, his equanimity gained him friends everywhere, and made him a general favorite in his own city.

His loss to this Board was irreparable.

The final adjustment of disputed points having been effected, the arrangement of the report was left to the Secretary, and it will be seen by a reference to the details, that it has been his object to condense into the smallest space the subject matter of each and all the claims.

The act of the Legislature required the observance of certain instructions, as follows, to wit :

"SEC. 6. Said commissioners shall examine all such claims duly presented, and find the amount of loss thereon, and whether the claim be meritorious, as, upon the evidence before them, they may deem just and equitable ; and they shall keep a full and correct record of the claims presented, and their action thereon ; and shall, on or before December 15th, 1864, report their proceedings, their finding, and the facts upon which each claim is founded, to the Governor, separating said claims into the following classes :

"1st. Claims for property taken, destroyed or injured by the rebels.

"2d. Claims for property taken, destroyed or injured by the Union forces, under command of United States officers.

"3d. Claims for property taken, destroyed or injured by the Union forces not under command of United States officers ; with a statement showing specifically, in each case, under what circumstances, and by what authority, such property was so taken, injured or destroyed ; it being the object of this act to have a careful examination of said claims, and a report as to the nature and amount thereof, but to leave the question of the liability of the State open and undetermined, for future action.

"SEC. 7. Each claimant for personal property shall prove whether the same was listed in his name in 1863, for taxation in this State, and if so, whether he placed the valuation thereon ; and no claimant for the loss or destruction of property so listed, and valued by himself, shall be allowed a grater sum than valuation."

These directions have been scrupulously observed as far as practicable ; instead, however, of reporting " the facts upon which each claim is founded," in extenso, a tabular form has been devised, which exhibits the name and post-office address of the claimant ; a brief synopsis of the property taken or damaged, with the amount claimed for such loss or damage ; the valuation of the property for taxation in 1863 (when fixed by the claimant) ; the name of the officer in authority over the Union forces committing the damage ; the names of the witnesses testifying under oath, or making affidavits of their knowledge of the claimant or the statements made by him, with the amount allowed as " just and equitable, upon the evidence."

A fuller exhibit of the individual claims would have served only to increase the volume of an already voluminous document.

To facilitate any possible recurrence to the original claims, reference is made on the abstracts, in each case, to the "original docket number."

A separate column has been kept, at your instance, in the claims for damages by the rebels, of the value of such property as has been certainly traced into the possession and use of the United States forces. Upon referring to the consolidated abstract herewith presented, the amount, viz., $20,552, will be seen to be ridiculously small, when it is patent to every one that, of the large number of animals stolen by the rebels (upwards of twenty-five hundred) and not restored to their owners, nearly all were recaptured by the Government forces after the fight in Meigs county, or at the surrender in Columbiana. It appears that there was very little effort made to restore such property to the rightful owners, or the efforts of a few just men were frustrated by the more designing, who hurried off the stock to the "front" with indecent haste.

In some instances we have been led to make "remarks" upon the merits of a case, in strong language: we have no soft phrases for perjury, when committed by the lips of the crafty.

Claims of "doggeries" for drams supplied, or for intoxicating beverages furnished in wholesale or retail quantities, have been very generally ignored; they proved a public curse during the raid (as indeed they always have), and, while they were not only the source and exciting cause of still greater depredations upon the property and rights of our citizens, their operations were almost invariably carried on in flagrant violation of existing law, and the claims could not be allowed as "just and equitable, upon the edivencee."

While the statement of damages, etc., by Union forces not under command of United States officers, shows what is literally and strictly correct, it may not be irrelevant to say that it does not exhibit a list of all the property taken by the Ohio Militia. This appears from the fact that when the militia forces were organized by officers of Ohio or United States regiments, and placed under their temporary command, in the field, any injuries inflicted by such forces, so officered, were embraced in the class of damages "by Union forces under command of United States officers."

The conduct of the State Militia, as shown by this investigation, was for the most part very exemplary, and improper demands upon the citizens were rare; there were, however, a few flagrant exceptions to this general good behaviour. The most prominent and dastardly act of wrong, was, perhaps, the cowardly plundering of the house of Mrs. Misner, in Jackson county, by the militia companies of Captains James Faulkner and Nelson Richmond, of Vinton county. Evidence is wanting that the deed was committed with the advice, consent or knowledge of the officers; but it would be a source of gratification if those companies could be compelled to make reparation for their acts of vandalism, especially when it is known that the husband of the woman was absent from home in the service of his country.

The rooms of two college students at Athens were forced and robbed while the militia were quartered in the building; besides these, similar acts were scarcely known.

A claim of considerable magnitude was presented in Ross county, growing out of the burning of the bridge of the Portsmouth and Columbus Turnpike Company, over Paint Creek, south of the city of Chillicothe.

No doubt exists as to the burning of the bridge while the militia occupied the town of Chillicothe, but no proof whatever was produced of the party who applied the torch or gave the orders to do so. The only evidence, documentary or otherwise, touching the subject, was the following copy of a very general order:

“TO THE PEOPLE OF ROSS COUNTY!

“In accordance with orders of the General Commanding, the people of Ross county will, upon the approach of Morgan toward the Scioto, proceed to tear up every bridge and fell trees, and in every manner impede the progress of the enemy.

“Per order of
BEN. P. RUNKLE,
Col. Commanding.

“N. G. FRANKLIN, Capt. and Post Adj’t.”

The Commissioners did not consider the case sufficiently made out, and have declined to make an allowance in behalf of the turnpike company.

Your attention is respectfully directed to the insufficiency of the appropriation for the salaries and expenses of the Commission.

We have not hesitated to complete the work in hand, notwithstanding the exhaustion of the appropriation of three thousand dollars, and solicit the prompt appropriation of a sum to meet the deficit, viz:

For transportation furnished by the Quartermaster-General of

Ohio.....	$65 84
For salaries due.....	438 00
“ expenses and additional services employed.....	364 16

Total..... $868 00

With this statement the report is respectfully submitted.

GEO. W. BARKER,
HENRY S. BABBITT,
Commissioners.

The foregoing is a correct summary abstract of the claims growing out of the "Morgan Raid," examined by the Commissioners appointed for that purpose.

HENRY S. BABBITT, Secretary.

[NOTE.—In the following tables, where the property taken by the rebels has been shown to have been subsequently taken up by the U. S. Forces, the fact and the value of such property is stated in foot notes; so also, in establishing the value of property taken, under the law for taxation, when the value was fixed by the claimant it is noted at the bottom of the page, in all other cases the property was either valued by the claimant in connection with other similar property, or fixed by the assessor, or not listed by the claimant.

The parole testimony and affidavits of witnesses corroborate the claimants' statements only in exceptional cases, which are made the subjects of "Remarks."]
